

HW-04 Question

Q1. About 4.10, I don't find a rigorous proof of that we change every bit of a sequence, getting a number of sequences , then do the same things to those sequences we can get $\{0,1\}^d$.

Q2. I still use some descriptive words to prove a conclusion. I have difficulty changing them into formal derivation.